The Albany has just arrived and we see another splendid design, with the exceptionally good beaver reverse, absolutely spoiled by the reducing machine.

Don't blame the artists for their design. Just regret their inability to realize that they are making a small fifty-cent-size coin and not a seven-inch plaster medallion.

ROOSEVELT PROSPERITY TOKEN.

The firm of Jennings Hood has just issued an attractive token or small medal to commemorate the reelection and inauguration of President Roosevelt. It is also styled "Prosperity Token." The obverse has a splendid bust of the President, while the reverse shows the Capitol in Washington.

Four years ago Mr. Hood was instrumental in bringing out the Lucky Tillicum piece of similar size, which enjoyed a popularity with collectors.

The present issue is illustrated here. It is struck in both bronze and nickel-silver and is sold at the nominal price of 10 cents in either metal. Issued by Jennings Hood, S. E. corner of Chestnut and Thirteenth streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

COLUMBIA, S. C., HALF DOLLAR.

The illustration here is of the Columbia, S. C., half dollar. It commemorates the sesqui-centennial of the founding of Columbia as the capital of the State.

It was struck at the three mints and is already one of the rare sets in the commemorative series.

R. N. A. 25TH ANNIVERSARY BANQUET.

The 25th anniversary banquet was held at the Hotel Seneca on January 3rd, 1937. Twenty-five members and guests were present.

Members and their guests met early in the afternoon in the large room on the mezzanine, where card playing was enjoyed by both ladies and gents.

Mr. Kolb delivered both the 25th Anniversary medal and the Presidential medal to members ordering them.
